DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1, 4-8, 12-63, 65-70, and 72-79 have been allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, with corresponding system claims 28, 53 and 79 as well as computer readable medium claims 77 and 78, the prior arts of record to Gershman and Egner (either alone or in a combination) fail to teach or suggest each and every feature of the present invention for a method for providing targeted programming to a user outside of the user's home, the method comprising: receiving a user identification associated with a user, the user identification comprising an identifier corresponding to an account number used in a transaction; receiving reception site information to identify a user action and a site at which the user action is taking place; capturing additional user information from the identified user action and the reception site information; updating a user profile to include the captured additional user information; receiving the updated user profile based upon the user identification and the additional user information, the user profile including information characteristic of the user; processing the updated user profile to provide user determinations regarding user actions; selecting a targeted program based on the reception site information and the updated user profile and the user determinations, and providing the targeted program for presentation to a user outside of the user's home.

The Gershman patent fails to disclose or suggest processing the updated user profile to provide user determinations regarding user actions as recited in amended independent claim 1.

Art Unit: 2623

Further, Egner fails to remedy the deficiencies of the Gershman patent, for example, there is no disclosure or suggestion in the Egner patent of the capturing and updating steps, nor is there any disclosure or suggestion of updating the user profile to include the captured additional user information and processing the updated user profile to provide determinations regarding user actions as required by amended independent method claim 1. While the Egner patent appears to disclose a personalized presentation system, the Egner patent focuses on tracking individuals within a particular facility, such as an amusement park or other type of large-area facility (see col. 1, lines 43-54; see also col. 2, lines 42-52). Egner discloses receiving reception site information to identify a user action and a site at which the user action is taking place, there is no disclosure or suggestion in the Egner of the (amended) steps of capturing additional user information from the identified user action and the reception site information and updating a user profile to include the captured additional user information.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
